If user won/lost or cancelled the game, it will be stored in local storage:

1) when user wins the game, new game will be started immediately.

(When user will place the last correct letter, New game will be started immediately. I can't show this functionality through screenshots. If you insist, I can show you on my laptop.)

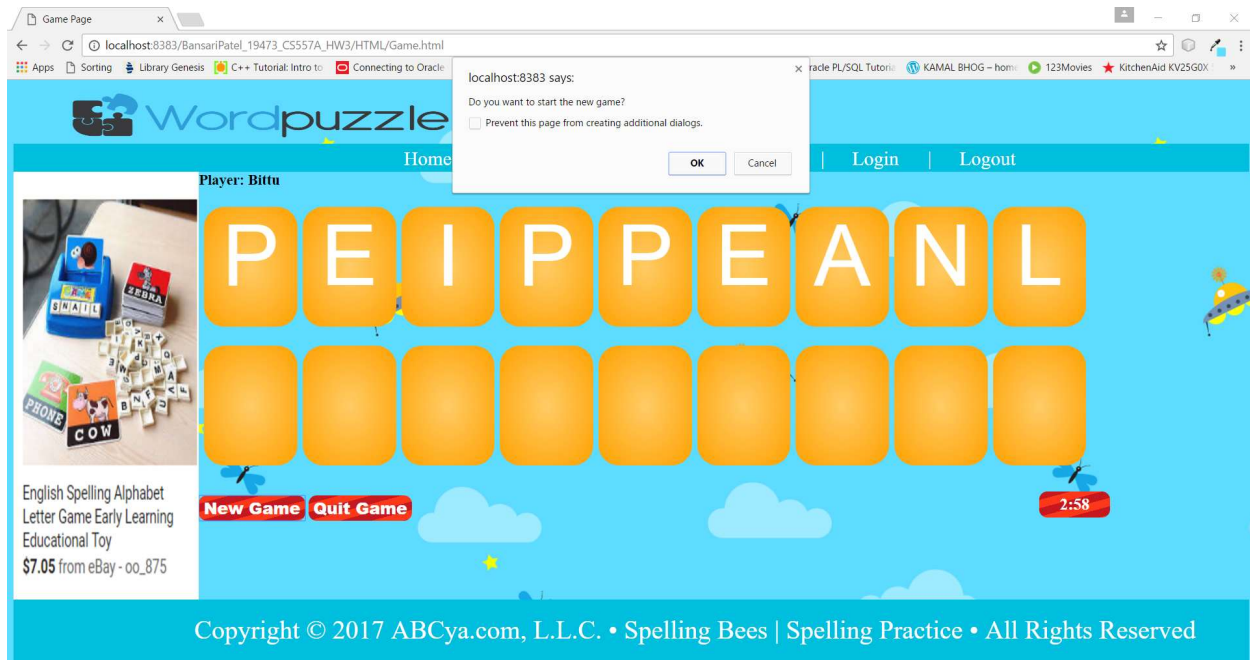

2) when time is over(user loses the game), alert message will be displayed and after clicking on ok button, new game will be started.

3) If user click on Newgame button, user will be asked to confirm the decision.

-> If user clicks on ok button, then current game will be cancelled and new game will be started.

-> If user clicks on cancel button, current game will be continued.

4) If user clicks on Quit Game button, user will be asked to confirm the decision.

-> If user clicks on Ok button, current game will be cancelled and user will be redirected to Logs page.

-> If user clicks on Cancel button, current game will be continued.

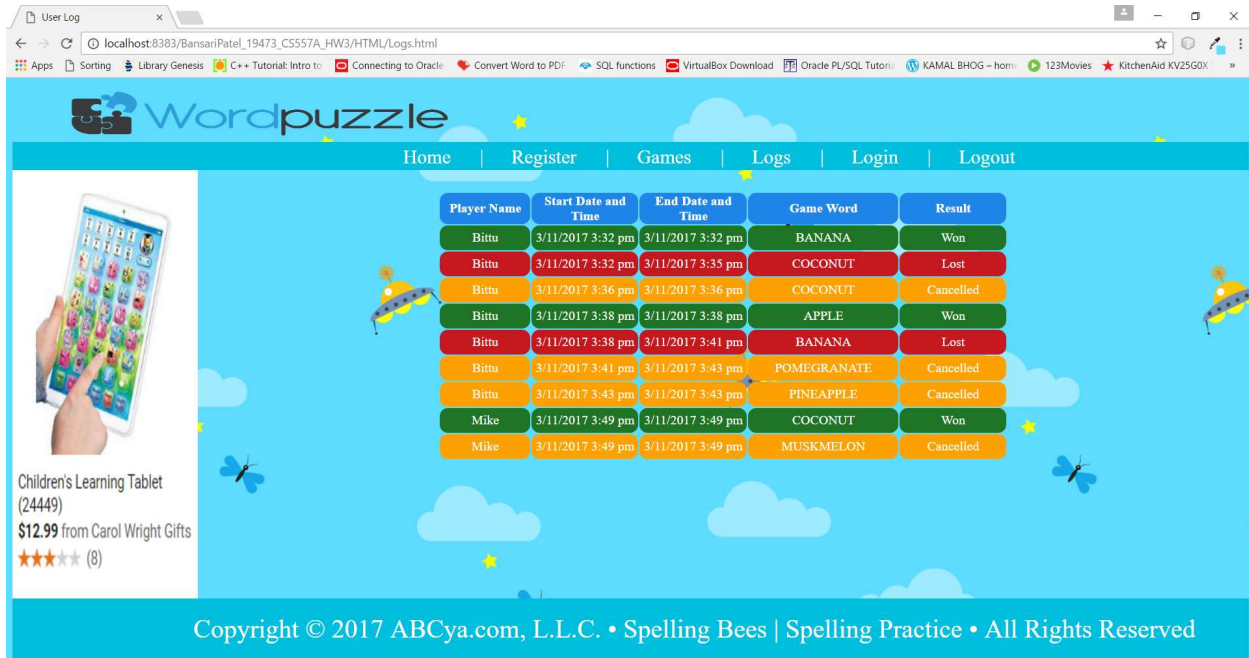

All the users' gaming results will be displayed on Logs page:
